A Protein Rich Diet Boosts Benefit of Exercise

A study in the August 2005 Journal of Nutrition found that a diet rich in high-quality protein, coupled with a moderate exercise program, helped people improve body composition by losing significantly more fat and maintaining more muscle mass.¹

WHAT IS HIGH-QUALITY PROTEIN?

High-quality proteins, like lean beef, lowfat dairy products and eggs, provide the right amounts of all the amino acids, or "building bricks," your body needs in order to grow and function properly.²

TIPS TO GET LEAN WITH PROTEIN

Building Block Breakfasts

- Make that coffee a latte. The lowfat milk will give you a high-quality protein boost.
- Power up your pita. Fill a whole grain pita with scrambled eggs for a portable breakfast.

Maximized Mid-Day Munchies

- Pack a snack. Carry beef jerky for a handy protein-powered treat.
- Mix'n'match. Add some lowfat cheese to apple slices for a savory snack.

Lean Lunches

- Add some flavor. Grilled sirloin or tuna steak adds a sizzle to any salad.
- Take it with you. Hard-boiled eggs are easy ways to add protein to any meal.
- It's in the middle. An open-face lean deli meat sandwich is a delicious lean protein lunch.

Satisfying Suppers

- Keep it warm. Chili con carne with 95% lean ground beef or ground skinless poultry is a satisfying way to get lean and stay warm.
- Mix things up. Sliced flank steak or boneless skinless poultry will give a protein boost to any stir-fry.
- Make it a power meal. Great-tasting beef tenderloin helps you get the most from dinner.

This menu illustrates how easy (any great-tasting) it can be to reap bonus results from your exercise program by simply replacing some carbohydrates with high-quality proteins.
